Never Worry About Someone Stealing Your Prop Again!

Every now and then a product comes along and when you see it you say "Wow! I've been looking for something just like that." Well, I've just run across one of those products and want to tell everyone about it. Its an innovative product called the "SecureProp" boat propeller lock.

For many years families have enjoyed fishing, skiing and recreational boating. Years ago, you could leave your windows and doors unlocked and never worry about someone taking any of your belongings from your house. Along the same lines, who would have given a second thought about someone stealing the prop off of their boat parked in the driveway next to their house or hanging in the hoist down at the camp. Unfortunately though, times today have changed.

U.S. Patent # 6,186,742

You can no longer leave your doors and windows unlocked for fear of being robbed and certainly anyone that owns a boat worries that one day, they'll come out to get their boat ready and find that their propeller has been stolen. How many of you have either had your propeller stolen or heard of someone else that had theirs taken. Its not a good feeling to get down to the dock at 4AM with your fishing buddies just to find out someone made off with that nice shiny and expensive stainless steel prop. That just makes everyone's day, especially if you have to run back into town to buy a new one instead of spending the day out fishing.

US Patent #6,186,742

Along comes a company called SecureProp to the rescue! Knowing that there is a major problem with propeller theft, SecureProp designed the most advanced boat prop lock on the market. During their endeavor of creating the ultimate boat prop lock, they went a step further, and included some innovative features. The prop lock comes with an Abus padlock and can fit any size boat propeller. Its available in three sizes and fits anything from a 20 hp Johnson to a 300 hp Mercury. SecureProp is constructed of heavy duty space-age corrosion resistant 15-5 stainless steel (the same stainless used to make boat propellers) for maximum security and to minimize corrosion in both fresh and salt water environments .

While an ideal boat prop lock, they didn't stop there. They also added a reflector to the lock. This reflector serves a dual purpose. First, the reflector maximizes the visibility of the protruding boat motor while trailering at night. Better visibility means there is less of a chance that someone will rear end or "bump" your engine because they either didn't see the engine sticking out that far or just were not paying attention. Second, it shines brilliantly when there are no trailer lights on the trailer or when the trailer lights may have stopped working. Who hasn't had a problem with their trailer lights at one time or another? The SecureProp boat prop lock gets your boat noticed for the right reasons.

SECUREPROP™

The SecureProp boat prop lock is quite easy to use. 123..1-remove the lid. 2-install on the motor, 3-lock the pad lock ..its so easy, a 4 year old can do it. No need to take the nut off or anything complicated. You can put it on or take it off in just seconds.
